

THE BEST GEAR FOR POTTY TRAINING

POTTIES

Baby Bjorn Smart Potty is the potty we used. It is sturdy and has a removable inner potty, which makes cleaning easy. I have fit this in my suitcase, but I would recommend the OXO Tot 2-in-1 Go Potty for travel.

Fisher Price The Perfect Potty Ring is an inexpensive seat reducer that has handles and a splash guard and is easy to clean.

Squatty Potty The Original Adjustable Height Bathroom Toilet Stool helps toddlers use the toilet. It is adjustable, so the height can be increased to support a squatting position, which encourages easier and complete eliminations.

OXO Tot 2-in-1 Go Potty for Travel can be brought with you to potty in or next to the car and you can use the seat reducer on public toilets. It folds up so it fits easily in a diaper bag or suitcase.

OXO Tot 2-in-1 Go Potty Refill Bags are used with the OXO Top 2-in-1 Go Potty to throw away waste. The bags are lined with absorbent pads.

MATTRESS PROTECTOR

Pure-Rest Wool Moisture Protection Mattress Pad comes in many sizes, from mini co-sleeper to king. The wool puddle pad can be topped with a towel during naps and nighttime. I prefer wool to a plastic-lined protector.

UNDERWEAR AND TRAINING

Tiny Undies are perfect when you want something very lightweight, so as to not feel like a diaper. There is no padding in the crotch so they provide immediate feedback to the child after soiling.

Tiny Trainers have two extra layers of absorbent cotton in the core, so a small-to-mid size pee will not soak through. These are a great option for daycare or outings because they offer extra absorbency without being a diaper or pull-up.

BOOKS

A board book, Tiny Potty explains the potty routine (the sensation, pause in play, run to the potty and return to play) from a child's point of view.

Night Potty, also a board book, offers a reminder before bedtime of how to potty in the middle of the night, again from the child's point of view.
